MANY VISITORS EXPECTED HERE FOR WEEKEND REVIVAL SERVICES

Many out-of-town visitors, especially teen-agers and young adults from churches throughout this area, are expected in West Liberty this weekend for Rev. Frank Roughton's "Abundant Life Venture Weekend."

The three-day revival, which begins Friday evening at the Morgan County High School, promises to be one of the most interesting and unusual evangelistic meetings ever presented in this area.

Rev. Roughton, a Methodist minister and former professional actor, will employ drama and other unconventional techniques in conveying his messages.

The weekend services will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday when Rev. Roughton, who is sought after throughout the nation and abroad for his unique ministry, will dramatize, in costume, Christ's Sermon on the Mount.

Over the past 10 years, Rev. Roughton, of Atlanta, Ga., has become famous for his sermon on the Mount portrayal of Christ. His creative approach to evangelism has been highly successful in churches throughout the nation as well as on college campuses where his unusual style of humor, thought, and feeling gives him a natural rapport with youth as well as older citizens.

Writer, producer, and director of a widely-acclaimed outdoor drama on the life of Christ, Rev. Roughton is now seeking a location for an outdoor theatre to become a permanent home for the drama.

An area in eastern Morgan

County which is being developed as a religious youth camp by Rev. Geraldine Conway and Associates is one of 13 sites in several states being considered for permanent location of the production.

Rev. Roughton holds a B. A. degree from Asbury College, a B. D. degree from Emory University, a Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Georgia, and has completed a number of post-graduate studies at the University of Cincinnati and the University of Georgia, and has been a teacher of Bible at Andrew College.

A native of Wisconsin, he was reared on a farm in south Georgia. He is married and the father of three children.

The schedule of weekend services is as follows—

Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Sermon on the Mount will be dramatized by Roughton in costume. Saturday is Teen Festival Day for teenagers and young adults only. This session will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday at 7:30 p.m. everyone is welcome to hear Roughton talk on "Is There Life After Birth?" At 8:30 p.m. a second session will be held especially for parents. The subject for that hour is "Perplexed Parents."

At 9:45 a.m. Sunday, the topic will be "Foolish Faith." At 11 a.m. Rev. Roughton's topic will be "Compelling Power." At 6 p.m. Sunday, the topic will be "Bibles or Bullets." The final service will be held on Sunday night at 7:30 and topic for that hour is "Victorious Living."

3 More Bogus $20's Detected Here Last Week

The Commercial Bank at West Liberty detected two more counterfeit $20 bills last week, and a West Liberty businessman detected another, bringing to five the number of bogus $20's found in Morgan last week.

Two of the bills were detected by bank personnel in deposits made by Bernie Dyer and Turner Standard Oil Service Station. The third was detected by Rex Adams when a customer, Bertie Maxey of Cannel City, Mrs. Adams did not know where she had obtained the bill.

Two more of the bogus bills were detected last week in bank deposits made by May Grocery Co. and Howard Standafar.

The bogus $20's were excellently printed. However, the paper on which they were printed was slick and lacked rag fibers.

A spokesman at the bank said the bogus bills all bore D series serial numbers, but the positions of the number "5" and "3" were changed on each. The 5's and 3's on the bills do not align with the other numbers, appearing either slightly above or below the other numbers.

ROWAN MAN, WIFE ROBBED BY 'PAINTERS'

MOREHEAD, Ky. — A Rowan County man and his wife were robbed of about $1,200 in cash Saturday by two men who pretended to be house painters.

The victim, Jack Plank, 73, of Morehead Rt. 2, told state police here the men came to his rural home about 10 a.m. Saturday and told him and his wife, Maude, 74, that they would paint the home for a small fee.

Once inside, one of the men held Mr. Plank while the other man searched the house. He found the money hidden in a dresser in the bedroom, police said.

The men fled in a pickup truck. Neither of the victims was injured.

State police reported this was the second such robbery in the area in two weeks. Last week, two men who posed as Social Security officials stole $150 cash from a blind man in Fleming County, Ky. The robbers reportedly told him they wanted to check his home for dependents.

The Farmers Home Administration office here announced this week that Morgan and Magoffin Counties have been certified to receive FHA relief loans for victims of recent flash floods.

Heavy rains in recent weeks, particularly in the North Fork section of Morgan and around Salyersville in Magoffin, flooded several homes and businesses and caused heavy damage to land and crops.

An FHA spokesman said that in Magoffin County alone, 75 homes were flooded by water up to 14 feet deep. A flash flood at Salyersville last Wednesday night drove around 50 families from their homes. Last month, around 25 families were driven from their homes by a flash flood on North Fork in Morgan.

Relief loans for repair of damaged homes and farm buildings in the two counties are available at 1 percent interest with 10 years to repay. Fifty loans are available at 5 percent interest for repaid of land damage.

MRS. FRANKLIN HEADS MORGAN ARTHRITIS DR.

The Kentucky Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation has named Mrs. Walter Franklin of West Liberty to head its 1971 campaign for funds to fight arthritis. The drive will be conducted during September, according to Richard M. O'Connell, president of the Chapter.

"We're not mining words about arthritis," said O'Connell. "Our catch phrase is 'Arthritis is living hell' because that is precisely what it is for many of its victims."

"You hear a lot about the so-called 'minor aches and pains' of arthritis," he said, "but for many victims it can mean a night mare of pain and gradual crippling and is very serious indeed."

One in 11 Americans of all ages has arthritis, he pointed out. That means that in Morgan County alone there are 835 arthritis victims.

The Arthritis Foundation's 1971 Victory Campaign will seek funds to improve medical care facilities for arthritics in Kentucky and for research seeking the final victory over arthritis—cause and cure.

The Drive has the sponsorship of the Morgan County Woman's Club.

Pat Perkins Wreck Death Recalled In Six-Year-Old Case

Judge W. Major Gardner last Friday granted a new trial to Joseph Nichols, who was convicted of involuntary man slaughter in Morgan Circuit Court at its February term in 1965 and sentenced to 10 years in prison for the traffic death of Pat Perkins of Index.

Nichols, who has been in Fiddlyville State Prison serving the sentence, had filed a petition through public service attorneys asking that the 1965 judgement and conviction be vacated, and the question was argued before Judge Gardner here July 20. Nichols was represented by Terry Anderson, public service attorney for Morgan and Rowan counties. The Commonwealth was represented by Commonwealth Attorney Ralph N. Walter and County Attorney Thomas Davis.

Nichols was returned from Fiddlyville for the hearing, and has been held in Morgan County jail since the hearing. Judge Gardner took the question under advisement, and handed down his decision Friday with Nichols and his attorneys present.

In the order vacating the 1965 judgement, Judge Gardner ordered a re-trial of the case and set the re-trial date for Oct. 21 in circuit court here. He set Nichols' bail at $5,000, and ordered him held in Morgan County jail if he failed to post bond. He presently is in the county jail.

In his petition Nichols ascribed two grounds for vacating the 1965 conviction—

1. That two witnesses were not present at the trial and his counsel was derelict in his duties in not seeing they were summoned.

2. That the defendant was not informed of his right of an appeal.

It was brought out at the hearing that Nichols insisted that he be tried at the February term (the fatal accident occurred Jan. 12) saying he would "rather be in the pen than remain in the county jail." He also was vague about identity of the two witnesses or what they would testify had they been present.

Judge Gardner in his opinion said "certainly petitioner has not shown that the two witnesses were of such importance that their testimony would have caused the verdict to be different. He asked also for an immediate trial with the full knowledge that the two witnesses, of unknown knowledge regarding the facts of the case, would not be present."

However, Judge Gardner agreed that Nichols was not informed of his right of appeal and that he would not be required to pay costs of the appeal. "In the light of recent federal and state decisions the court is of the opinion that Nichols' petition is well founded and the court's failure to inform petitioner of his right of appeal was a denial of his constitutional rights and that he is entitled to an appeal with court-appointed counsel, or that the judgement be vacated."

Judge Gardner noted that no stenographic record of the case had been made and since six years had elapsed it would not be feasible to get adequate records for an appeal. Thus he set aside the judgement and ordered a re-trial.

Terry Anderson and Paul Blair were appointed as counsel for Nichols at his re-trial.

ARMCO TO FURLOUGH 300 MORE AT ASHLAND. ASHLAND, Ky. — Armco Steel Corp., blaming unfavorable conditions in the industry, will release 300 more employees at its Ashland plant next week.

This will bring to 900 the number of workers furloughed here recently. Armco said the additional layoffs at Ashland are a part of 1,400 planned next week at three plants. Approximately 1,000 hourly workers will be affected at Ambridge, Pa., and 113 at Baltimore.

A spokesman said the action "reflected continuing pressure from the two-thirds increase in steel imports this year and the reduction of strike-hedge inventory."

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, will visit a number of households in this area the week of August 16 to obtain information on employment here. Joseph R. ## BETHLEHEM'S STRIP MINE ADS BEING PROBED

WASHINGTON — The Federal Trade Commission has begun a preliminary investigation of possible "unfair or deceptive practices" in advertising by Bethlehem Steel Corp. that depicts the company's strip mine operations in two Eastern Kentucky counties as an esthetic and recreational enhancement.

The FTC is investigating a group of four-color, full-page ads by Bethlehem Steel which were published in national magazines asserting that the strip-mining by the firm's Beth-Elkhorn coal mining division in Pike and Letcher Counties was causing only a temporary disturbance to the affected land.

The ads asserted that "every acre of land surface mined by Bethlehem is promptly and effectively restored — often to more beneficial use than before it was mined."

The Bethlehem Steel ads showed a mountaineer and his grandson fishing for "bluegills and largemouth bass" on the lushly green shore of Fishpond Lake, a 45-acre, manmade impoundment on a former Letcher County strip mine "donated by Bethlehem to serve as a recreational area for the people of Jenkins and other nearby communities in Eastern Kentucky."

The ads said the region had never before had a "lake for fishing and swimming." Inconspicuously the ads acknowledged that "the dam and lake were built by the State of Kentucky." They did not say that by donating the mined out and worthless land the company had been relieved of county tax liability for it.

According to the Letcher County sanitation officer, the lake is badly contaminated with acid from the coal mine.

Court of Appeals Will Get Briefs In Coal Truck Case

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., Aug. 11 — Attorneys for the Johnson County Citizens League for Law Enforcement are scheduled to submit briefs Friday to the Court of Appeals on a case involving alleged overweight coal trucks.

The action stems from a complaint submitted to the court more than two months ago.

The attorneys also will ask the court for a temporary injunction against the operators until a decision in the case is reached.

VFW PHILS WIN LITTLE LEAGUE PLAYOFFS IN DOUBLE HEADER MON.

The VFW Phils, coached by Earl Holbrook, edged Bert Holbrook's Freezer Freshers, 2-1, in the final game of a double header Monday to win the Morgan County Little League Baseball Playoff Tournament.

The VFW, undefeated in tournament action until the last round of play, lost to the Freezer Freshers, 6-2, in Monday's opener, necessitating another game between the two teams in the double-elimination tournament to determine a winner.

League leaders throughout the season, the Freezer Freshers ended regular season play in first place (13-2) with the VFW second (11-4).

VFW gained its berth in the final round of the playoffs by edging Marling Potter's Elam Rexall nine, 3-2, and Lexie Adams' Roadrunners, 8-3.

The Freezer Freshers lost to the Roadrunners in the playoff opener, but later edged Elam Rexall, 8-5, and re-venged themselves against the Roadrunners, 12-1, to gain the finals berth.

In the final game Ralph Ison went the distance on the mound for VFW, allowing only one run on three hits. Catcher was Johnny Whit.

Ison also did better than yeoman service at the plate, whacking out a double and a single to drive in both of his team's runs.

VFW's first run came in the top of the first after leadoff batter David Easterling pecked out a single and scored on Ison's double.

The game winning run came in the fourth when Ricky Pelfrey hit a double and scored on a single by Ison.

Also collecting hits for VFW were Marvin Patrick and Jimmy Lewis.

The Freezer Freshers' lone run came in the bottom of the first when pitcher Johnny Perry swatted a triple and then scored on a single by Jeffery Franklin.

In Monday's opener, the Freezer Freshers kept their hopes alive by downing VFW, 6-2. A loss would have ended the tourney at that point.

Anthony Frederick, pitching five innings to Johnny Perry, allowed VFW only three hits while his teammates collected six hits to score runs by Johnny Perry in the first, Dana Hammonds in the second, Ray Potter and Paul Reed in the third, and Hammonds and Kevin Brooks in the fifth inning.

Picking up hits for the Freezer Freshers were Johnny Perry, who got two, Ray Potter, Paul Reed, and Dana Hammonds, a hit apiece.

VFW's two runs came in the second inning after Ricky Pelfrey and Johnny Whit each singled and Ralph Ison sent them home with a double.

In honor of the occasion, a surprise anniversary dinner was served in the home of their daughter, Mrs. E. P. Smith. Besides the honorees and the host, present were Alma Craft, another daughter, and a granddaughter, Hilda Fay Smith, who presented her grandfather with a complete Bible on recordings.

Mr. Craft, 93, a Bible reader all his life, stated that reading of the Bible was one of the most treasured activities he had to give up due to failing eyesight.

Mrs. Craft who is 87, recently had surgery but has regained sufficient health to enable her to take care of most of her household chores.

Hippies Abide By Truth In Packaging

Hippies and their ilk should be credited with obeying at least one law, that which requires truth in packaging. The way they package themselves certainly tells the sad truth about what they are.

MISS BALL, MR. WARD WED IN DOUBLE-RING CEREMONY AT LOUISA FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

MRS. ERICIL WARD

Miss Dana Lou Ball became the bride of Ericil Ward in a double ring ceremony performed July 17, at two o'clock, in the First Baptist Church, Louisa. The bride is the daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Daniel D. Ball, of Louisa, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ericil Ward, of Malone.

Reverend Ralph E. Webb performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with basket arrangements of white gladioli, pink, blue, and green majestic daisies, with rainbow colored ribbon bows, palms, and branched candelabra holding lighted tapers. The bride wore a formal gown of antique white pearl silk taffeta, styled with an empire waistline with a bow in back. The bodice was styled with a high neckline with sheer yoke insert, appliqued medallions of re-embroidered alencon lace and seed pearls adorned the neckline, Juliet sleeves, bodice and the A-line skirt. The gown was enhanced with a detachable bouffant chapel train, which flowed from the back waistline bow, with re-embroidered alencon lace and seed pearl applique medallions edging the train. Her tiered bouffant elbow length veiling of illusion cascaded from an alencon lace and seed pearl head piece. She carried a colonial bouquet of white pom poms, sprays of seed pearls, lilies, centered with a white Cattleya orchid, with white streamers tied with lover's knots.

Miss Teresa Ball, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, in a floor-length gown of pastel blue, floored dot nylon organza, with a floral spray of tiny white and pink flowers, fashioned with a high banded neckline and bishop sleeves, over a solid pastel blue underdress. The gown was accented with a blue satin ribbon at the empire waistline, a bow in back and full length streamers. Her headpiece was fashioned of matching blue satin ribbon. She carried a wicker basket filled with Margarette daisies, baby's breath and fern, tied with blue satin streamers.

Bridesmaids, Miss Vanessa Ball, and Miss Betty Burns, cousins of the bride, wore mint green and pink gowns, identical to that of the honor attendant, headpieces matching their gowns, and carried wicker baskets filled with Margarette daisies and tied with streamers the same color as their gown.

Michael Lacey, served as best man. Ushers were Manuel Ward, brother of the groom, and Roger Daniels, both of West Liberty. Wedding guests were registered by Miss Martha Burns.

The bride's table was covered with a white Irish linen cloth and held the tiered white wedding cake, encircled with fern, and decorated with pink roses. Two peace doves were nestled in rosebuds on the top tier of the cake.

The mother of the bride received the guests in a pink chiffon and lace ensemble, and wore a corsage of green cymbidium orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore an aqua and white knit dress, white accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

EVERYTHING COMPLETELY FURNISHED FOR THE CHILD

A Day-Care Center is a place where the pre-school child has an opportunity to learn through play with other children and appropriate toys and materials, where his mental, emotional, and physical growth is fostered, and where the nutritional food, health supervision, medical care, rest, and activities are provided as needed. This is done by a staff especially trained to meet the growth and needs of the child. It is a place where parents, for several hours each day, can leave their children and thus share their care and upbringing with the staff of the center.

A Day-Care Center may also be a place where the school-age child goes for recreational activities and for adult supervision he needs during some of his out-of-school hours. For a child of this age, too, growth needs are met by the staff, trained to provide the amount of supervision and types of activities appropriate to his age. Food, health supervision, and rest, as well as activities are made available as needed. The program for the Day-Care Center for the school-age child supplements both the home and the school.

BUSINESS HERE AND HEREABOUTS

COST OF LIVING RISES AGAIN — Cost of living rose six-tenths of percent during June, the sharpest increase in 15 months, the Labor Department reported Saturday. Federal officials, citing monthly raises of 0.1 to 0.3% a month earlier this year, had claimed that inflation was abating. Arthur P. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, told a joint Senate-House Economic Committee that efforts to curb prices and wages "need to be carried further — much further, possibly controls on them."

2 STATE FIRMS MERGE — Two of Kentucky's newest insurance companies have merged — Centennial Investors Life Insurance Co. of Lexington and Citizens Security Life Insurance Co. of Owensboro. Wells T. Lovett, president of the Owensboro-based company is president of the merged firm, to be known as Citizens Security Life Insurance Co.

ATTORNEY MOVES — Atty. Elmer Cunningham, Jr. of McKee has moved his law office to London, Ky. He is a 1967 graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Law and is licensed to practice in U. S. courts.

CUT IN DIVIDEND — International Nickel Co., Ltd., which operates a big plant in Huntington, W. Va., and another on the lower Big Sandy, has cut its quarterly dividend to 25 cents from 40 cents and reports that the second quarter earnings fell 55%.

SOY BEANS UP TO $4 BU. — The Wall Street Journal reports that soybean prices are heading upward in the new crop year beginning Sept. 1 — possibly to $4 a bushel. It's all due to supply and demand, and if the prices go to the predicted $4 it will be the first time in 10 years that this farm crop has reached that price level. Because reserve supplies are critically low and consumption exceeds production, soybean prices "could go helter-skelter by next summer," said one big Illinois grain dealer. Soybeans is the nation's No. 2 cash crop. They are used to feed both man and beast. They are crushed for their rich oil, also milled for their high protein meal, and world demand for these commodities is increasing — increasing faster than the 1% increase in acreage this year.

LAY-OFFS — Ashland's Armco works furloughed 400 workers last week and another 200 are slated to be released this weekend. Armco is trimming its work force because of reduced demand for steel. Armco's vice president said "reduced demand stems from sharply increased imports and inventory buildings by steel users. The big steel companies also announced an 8% increase in steel prices to take care of new wage contracts."

FARM MARKETINGS INCREASE — Cash receipts from Kentucky farm products sold during 1970 totaled $921,783,000, an increase of 3.8% over the 1969 farm income. Farm crops were up 2.8% and livestock receipts were up 4.7%. For the nation as a whole farm income was up 2.3% in 1970 over 1969.

OBSERVATIONS AND PREDICTIONS

WEEKLY UPS RATES — Because of the 30% increase in postage, the Sentinel-Echo, weekly newspaper at London, Ky., is increasing its in-county subscription from $4 to $5 per year, and to $5.50 elsewhere in the state. Rate outside Kentucky is $6.

AIR CONTROL OFFICE — The Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission has established a regional office in Ashland, one of three such offices set up in the state. Bob Campbell, a graduate of Morehead University with a degree in physics, has been assigned to the Ashland office to monitor levels of air pollution in the Ashland area.

ODDS & ENDS

BY EARL KINNER, JR

We missed this year's school homecoming, but have been informed that banquet speaker Joe B. Hall's talk was well received by the 150 or so homecomers present.
Hall is assistant head basketball coach at UK and a one-time UK basketball player.
Joe Lykins of Malone, 1971
president of the former students association, dropped by the office on Monday of last week to fill us in on how things went at the homecoming and banquet and ended up retelling some of the antics of Coach Hall related at the banquet. We took some notes, intending to include them in last week's homecoming story. However, when we sat down to write the story just before presstime last week we discovered we'd lost the notes. We also discovered we'd misplaced a photograph. The photograph (above) turned up later. That's
ing with Mr. Lykins. The notes never did turn up. Our apologues to Mr. Hall.

Mrs. Nannie Wells of West Liberty has recaptured the lead in what apparently is becoming a contest to see whose garden can produce the largest cucumber. From Mrs. Wells' garden this week comes a 21-inch-long cucumber. Also, Mrs. Morton Collins of Blairs Mills reported ly found one in her garden
19 1/2 inches long.

Around 200 Attend Fire Department Fish Fry At Hazel Green July 30th

Around 200 persons attended the Fish Fry held at Red River School for the benefit of the Hazel Green Community Fire Department on Friday night, July 30, in spite of the inclement weather.

Approximately $300 was taken in from which the cost of fish must be paid. All food was prepared by the local firemen, their wives, and the three HGA cooks. It was a delicious meal and everyone seemed to enjoy it as well as the fellowship with neighbors and friends.

Everyone was interested in seeing the new firetruck and on by local firemen. Fire Chief Ben Lindon expressed appreciation on behalf of the Fire Department to the group for their continued support of this worth-while program. The crowd represented friends and neighbors from Camp-ton, Mize, West Liberty, Paints-ville, and Quicksand. Mr. Bill Bridges, with the University of Ky. staff stationed at Quicksand was present. Mr. Harold Vickers from the Paintsville Fire Department was also present and expressed his admiration for the continued support of the volunteer fire department by the local communities.

The new fire truck was purchased without many of the conveniences needed for an ef- ficient fire department so the local firemen donated many man-hours of work in equipping the truck with needed equip- ment.

Free door prizes were contributed by the following places of business: Cable's Farm Sup- ply, Campton; Morris and Morris, Hazel Green; Lockard's Grocery and Service Station, Hazel Green, and Spencer's Ashland Service Station, Hazel Green.

The Fire Department sponsored Fish Fry at Red River School has become an annual event and people look forward to it each year, knowing they will not only receive a boun- tyful and delicious meal, but get a chance to visit with neighbors and friends.

LOOKS LIKE A GOOD SQUIRREL SEASON COMING UP AUGUST 21

FRANKFORT, Ky. — If the squirrel hunter so desired he could spend almost one-third of a year in Kentucky woods legally hunting the bushytails. Actually 116 days have been decreed as legal squirrel hunting time, more than for any other species of protected wild-life in the commonwealth. This year the season opens Aug. 21, continues through the remainder of that month, through all of September and October, after which there is a lull until Nov. 16 when the second phase opens. That last part will continue through the remainder of November and closes Dec. 31.

The long season may be one reason that squirrel hunting is the No. 1 harvest of wildlife, numerically, in Kentucky. And there must be a pretty good supply of squirrels or the 1,389,000 yearly average over a five-year period would not be available. Biologists of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources believe 1971 will produce an- other moderate crop of both the grey and fox squirrel (some- times erroneously called the red squirrel). They base their prediction on observations in the woods by field men, and on the fact that last fall a fair supply of mast (squirrel food) was available on trees and bushes. That always reflects on the squirrel crop the following season.

The mast crop is one of the most reliable indications of the upcoming population. If there is a good supply of food produced in a given summer (enough to last through the following winter) then a hearty, robust squirrel breeding stock is available. If the food is not available, much of the broodstock will not make it through the winter and those that do will not produce the good, strong type of young, and the population will suffer.

But biologists say the mast crop was about average last winter and therefore the papa and mama squirrels made it through the cold months fairly well. This has resulted in an average crop of young, and points to a good shooting year for the Kentucky squirrel hunter.

Squirrel hunting is a state-wide endeavor. There's hardly a county that does not offer targets for these hunters. The grey squirrel is universal in scope and from the banks of the Mississippi to the Big Sandy, Kentucky nimrods will be plinking at this most elusive animal. In the central Bluegrass section, with its stately trees dotting pastureland and wide fields, the fox squirrel will be the target. The latter may be the sharper of the two species, when it comes to outwitting the hunter, probably due to the fact that it has a better view of its adversary as he approaches.

One note to the squirrel hunter: Often the best hunting is later in the season. In the early days a hunter may become discouraged because he does not see the number of squirrels he expects, but this does not mean they're not present. In all probability, they'll show up about that time in the fall when they start storing nuts and other food for winter use. So if the first few trips are flops, don't give up. The squirrels are there and you'll find them at a later date.

SUNDAY CLOSING LAW UPHELD AS CONSTITUTIONAL

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 5 — Jefferson Circuit Judge Marvin J. Sternberg ruled yesterday that the Kentucky Sunday closing law is constitutional and said he would issue permanent injunctions against stores in Jefferson County cited for Sunday operation.

More than 80 stores were involved in a suit brought by the Retail Merchants Association of Louisville charging that law-enforcement agencies had failed to enforce Sunday closing statutes.

Sternberg also said in his 28-page opinion on the 25-month-old case that he would comply with a Kentucky Court of Appeals order to hold 20 of the defendant stores in contempt of a temporary restraining order issued in the case in 1969.

Kentucky's Sunday closing law prohibits the sale of most items on Sunday, but exempts certain goods and services on the basis of necessity. The Court of Appeals directed Sternberg to fine each store at least 50 percent of their total gross sales of merchandise for the Sundays on which the stores operated in violation of the restraining order.

Sternberg set Sept. 20 as the date for a hearing to determine the amount of Sunday sales by the 20 defendants prohibited under the temporary restraining order.

In his opinion, Sternberg ruled that the defendant stores sold items which were not items of emergency or necessity. He noted that the Court of Appeals had already ruled that the certificates of necessity signed by cus-

CHURCH BUS WRECKS IN MOUNTAIN CREEK

JACKSON, Ky. — A church bus from Goshen, Ohio carrying 37 people overturned into the muddy waters of Buckhorn Creek about 7 o'clock Tuesday night. The bus was a total wreck and most of the passengers were injured, though none with more than a broken ankle and severe cuts and bruises. The bus was carrying young people and their chaperones from a number of churches in Indiana to visit the Krypton Bible Center and from there they wanted to go to Robinson Retreat. The driver said the bus hit the soft shoulders on a gravel road and went over a 12-foot embankment.

98 FLOYD TEACHERS HAVE NO POSITIONS

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. — Teachers have been hired in Floyd county for the 1971-72 school year—and some 98 applicants in the county failed to get positions. Floyd Supt. Charles Clark said the over-supply of teachers is a sharp contrast to the situation a few years ago when northern state like Ohio, Indiana and Michigan were recruiting teachers from Kentucky. "But the baby boom is over, and Floyd county has lost pupils in the past two years."

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 4 — During June, 1,333 low-income persons in Elliott County received food stamps valued at $33,012.00. Commissioner of the Department of Economic Security Merritt S. Deitz, Jr. announced today.

This record compares to 1,256 persons in Elliott County who received food stamps during the past year. During June 282,628 low-income Kentuckians received food stamps valued at $6,991,812. In June 1970, 288,770 persons received food stamps worth $5,166,681.

LEASE AND TRANSFER ARE NOW AVAILABLE TO BURLEY GROWERS

Burley tobacco growers are being reminded that farm marketing quotas may now be leased and transferred to other farms. This new provision will enable growers to assemble more economic units for Burley tobacco production, or to discontinue production and lease their farm quotas, according to Paul L. Fuqua, Chairman of the Kentucky Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Lease and transfer provisions already apply to other types of tobacco.

Interested producers should check with their County ASCS office on transfer procedure, said Mr. Fuqua.

Lease and transfer of Burley tobacco quotas will be permitted among farms located within the same county. Pounds for transfer to any one farm are limited to the smaller of 15,000 pounds or 50 percent of a farm's crop-land, times the farm yield, minus the burley quotas before transfer.

While transfers for the 1971 crop can be made up to February 15, 1972, Burley producers were urged by Mr. Fuqua to make their transfer agreements prior to the opening of the markets if possible.

Any owner with a Burley tobacco quota may transfer the quota, within limita-

For Your Dollar's Sake—

GROWERS ARE WARNED TO REDUCE CHEMICAL RESIDUES ON BURLEY

Careless use of chemicals and poor management from now until the burley tobacco crops are banded may prove costly to growers, according to the leaf specialists of four land-grant universities.

The university experts, along with Federal and state Departments of Agriculture, are cooperating in an educational program, "Reduce Residues Now on Tobacco For Your Dollar's Sake."

Tobacco growers, facing severe residual limits by Common Market nations, are urged to use only approved chemicals to fight pests and diseases.

Grasshoppers moving out of nearby hayfields may be a problem. Malathion is an approved chemical that can be used for attacking grasshopper swarms. The chemical also is recommended for curbing aphids, experts advise.

For flea beetles, Carbaryl (Sevin) is approved and recommended as is D-Syston (disulfoton).

Ira E. Massie, tobacco specialist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, says grasshoppers are not now a problem in this state. "We've been blessed with luscious forage crops," Massie said, adding, "I guess the grasshoppers have been getting their fill in the hay fields."

Massie cautioned Kentucky growers against careless use of contaminated equipment that may have been used as weed killers on non-tobacco crops.

Massie said that Guthrie and Sevin are effective against hornworms.

Carl T. Hicks, president of the Tobacco Growers' Information Committee, Inc., of Raleigh, N. C., is heading the RIN educational program which encourages farmers to use only chemicals which would not jeopardize the U. S. export market.

U. S.-grown tobacco exports last year were worth $679 million, Hicks said. The unmanufactured leaf was worth $488 million and U. S. manufactured products sold overseas were worth $191 million, the TGIC head said.

YOCUM

They together visited with his nephew, Tommie Adams, who has spent most of his life in Ohio except for a year he spent in Arizona due to his health. They also drove to the airport and shoe factory and other parts of West Liberty.

Va., Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Lewis and Rhonda, Mrs. Darrell Conley and Rebecca Lewis of Lexington and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie McGuire of Springfield, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Carter of Winchester visited Saturday with Dora Lewis and Virginia Oakley. Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Fairchild and Nettie Hughes of West Liberty.

Our community was saddened Sunday evening when we got word of the sudden passing of a good friend and neighbor, Ollie Fannin who used to live here but for the past few years had lived in Morehead and West Liberty. We extend our sympathy to the entire family.

One thorn of experience is worth a whole wilderness of warning....

OBITUARY

SPENCER

Corbit Spencer, son of the late Dee and Bertha Benton Spencer, was born March 16, 1914. He departed this life July 10, 1971, at the age of 57 years, 3 months, and 24 days. Corbit was never married, and after the death of his father and mother, who died a few years ago, he has been living alone. He has surviving seven sisters: Mrs. Nora Lewis, Bethel, Ohio; Mrs. Lottie Clemmons, Seth, West Virginia; Mrs. Reva Prater, Cannel City; Mrs. Loretta Frisby, Buskirk; Mrs. Mae Onsey, Mrs. Eunice Hlatton, and Mrs. Rebecca Lykins, all of Caney; also three brothers: Hubert, A. Hlatton, Ky.; Elbert, Middletown, Ohio and Stanley of Fayetteville, Ohio. One half-sister, Mrs. Maude Walters, Means, Ky.; and two half brothers, Ed, Butler, Ohio, and Caesar Spencer of Adele, Ky.

Corbit never knew much about the outside world, but the environment of his father, mother, family and friends made his life and surroundings a Garden of Eden. Corbit was kind, jolly and good to have in the community. He inherited the traits and characteristics of his father, loving the woodland, the gay fields, the old blacksmith shop, and all the environment of a country life. Years before his father passed away, he would stand and watch his father heat and shape the iron, and this came to be one of Corbit's first loves, and it was nothing unusual after his father passed away to hear the ring of the old hammer and anvil from his shop.

When through the death of his parents he was forced into isolation by despondency walking the corridors of his very being of discouragement. It was very lonely that he became extremely lonely. Those germs were fed the proper nutrition until they grew and waxed strong and we were made to ask as Jonadab said to Amnon "Why are thou lean from day to day?" Like the old ancient "He was

HILL POEMS FOR HILL PEOPLE

BY JOHN D. ENGLE, JR.

HILL DAWN

When the hills had pushed the sun up, I would run up slopes of barefoot morning where bright flowers were falling, where rills were writing music and birds were calling in a grandeur of grass and glitter. It was a land of luring leaf, dew-prismed petal, and the tempoed twitter of urges to feed, to mate, to play, during the dawn of something more than merely day.

JET STREAMS AND WORLD WEATHER

By Neville Shackelford

UK College of Agriculture LEXINGTON, KY. — Invisible rivers of air high above the earth often cause unseasonable weather conditions that discomfit farmers and gardeners and trouble vacationers no end.

Located near the boundaries between warm and cold air masses, these aerial rivers—or jet streams—circle the earth generally from west to east at speeds reaching 300 or more miles per hour.

Like land rivers of water, these powerful wind currents vary in speed and size but, unlike land stream, they are not confined to specific courses. Jet streams move north in summer and south in winter. These ribbons of air flow near the base of the stratosphere at altitudes ranging from 20,000 to 40,000 feet and may measure up to 300 miles wide and four miles deep.

The jet stream is usually located in the center of a broad belt of persistent winds called the westerlies, according to Jerry Hill, meteorologist in the U. K. College of Agriculture. It is this belt of strong winds which directs the movement of the highs and lows we see on the weather maps, he says. The result can be a late spring frost or a sudden autumn heat wave. When the westerlies move northward into Canada during the summer, weather systems over the U. S. become stagnant and move slowly or not at all.

A stationary mass of air was blamed for a blistering, sweltering heat wave along the east coast in the summer of 1969. Occasional relief from these heat waves comes when the jet stream dips southward briefly to steer cooler air from the more northern latitudes into the affected area.

Jet streams play an important part in the earth's air circulation. These high-altitude winds, along with such ocean currents as the Gulf Stream, distribute heat more uniformly between the equator and the poles. Without this distribution, the air at the equator could become impossibly hot, and some temperate regions might freeze.

For hundreds of years, men knew nothing of these elusive currents. Then, in 1883, a virtually unknown volcanic island lying between Java and Sumatra, exploded with such fury it was heard nearly 3,000 miles away.

The tremendous explosion carried ashes high above the earth and caused brilliant sunsets as far away as England. The speed of the spreading dust clouds suggested the existence of swift winds far above the earth, but decades passed before the mystery was fully solved.

During World War II, British meteorologists put jet streams to the use of Allied airmen. They secretly plotted these air currents so that Allied bombers riding the winds could be whisked to German targets in record time.

In the Far East, however, these powerful ribbons of wind worked against the Allies B-29 Superfortress pilots sometimes had to abandon missions against Japan because the jet winds all but brought their planes to a standstill.

Like a meandering river, the jet stream stretches clear around the globe and, according to meteorologists, of all the winds and storms on this planet, this gulf stream of air is the only one man has been able to make use of to any great extent. It is prophesied that in time aircraft will be invented that can ride this stream in unpowered flight. If so, then the dream of the flying carpet will have come true.

For a cow to have twin calves is not particularly unusual. But when one is 10 days older than the other it's very unusual. That's what happened in the case of the Guernsey mama pictured above. The heifer calves are half Black Angus. The oldest was born May 7 and its sister was born May 17. The cow and calves belong to Mrs. Joshua (Buddy) Gilliam and are being pastured on the Paul J. Peters farm at Isonville. The cow was being cared for by Mrs. Peters at the time the calves were born.

NEWS SUMMARY

By Gary G. Huddleston

TOURIST — Gov. Louie B. Nunn cited figures at a recent dedication ceremony at Lake Barkley which showed that 78 per cent of last year's 25 million state parks' visitors were from out-of-state. Noting that these visitors seem already sold on Kentucky as a family vacationland, he said it is time now to "sell Kentucky to more Kentuckians."

INSURANCE — The Court of Appeals denied an insurance industry request for a temporary injunction that would have prevented the state Insurance Department from including crime insurance in its FAIR plan. The FAIR plan is the pool used to subsidize those risks that otherwise could not obtain the needed insurance coverage.

TEACHERS — State Education Department official Dr. Sidney Simandle predicted that Kentucky's teacher surplus may continue indefinitely. He said the state now is producing about 6000 teachers a year for a Kentucky market of about 2500 jobs. A decreasing portion of that surplus is being absorbed by other states.

ECONOMY — An increased interest being shown by industrialists in new plant construction in Kentucky is a good sign that the national economy may be on the verge of a significant upswing, Commerce Commissioner Paul W. Grubbs said. In January, his agency had only five active industrial prospects on file, but for the last five months over 35 new prospects have been processed a month.

AMEND — Secretary of State Kenneth F. Harper certified the proposed homestead constitutional amendment, authorizing all county court clerks to place it on the Nov. 2 general election ballot. The amendment would provide a $6500 exemption for the residence of a person 65 years of age or older.

JOBS — A total of 380 former welfare recipients have found jobs during the first two months of the Economic Security Department's CREATE (Community Resources for Employment and Training Effort) program. CREATE is currently in effect in 15 Kentucky counties.
